RE: Launch of new Surf Life Saving Sydney website

Surf Life Saving Sydney is proud to announce that its new website went live yesterday Tuesday 26 August 2025. This website has been in production for over two years, and will deliver a clean, easy-to-use, modern and relevant online venue for all SLSS information.

Club Presidents were given a high-level presentation of the new website at the August 2025 Branch Council meeting just two weeks ago. This same preview was demonstrated to all attendees at the recent Pre-Season Briefing. The Club Presidents were then shown a more detailed version of the live website last night at the SLSS 76th AGM.

This updated website has seen the reduction of outdated files, including removing legacy items. Items of significance have been transitioned across to the new website. The new website has the following sections for access:

- Beach Safety – listed first as the site is publicly facing
- Member Services – Identifying activities run by branch as well as links to key support
- Lifesaving – providing a framework for all patrolling requirements
- Rescue Services – identifying the many areas that our RS team operate within
- Education – highlighting the many courses that we run, and key links
- Junior Development – showing the events run for our juniors
- Youth – with information on activities and events for our youth members
- Surf Sports – showing information for carnivals, officials, coaches and others with links
- About us - includes information on awards, our sponsors, inclusion, our team, clubs, history and strategic documents

Also available through the new website are pages containing information on:

- All events operated by SLS Sydney, available to be searched by date, or by portfolio
- All circulars and memos, again able to be searched by portfolio
- All news, showing all our social media posts and searchable by portfolio
- All other resources, such as guides, manuals, templates, flyers, programs and policies
- All vacant positions on our boards, committees and working groups, searchable by portfolio
- Links to our external sites such as Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, Live Heats, Photo Gallery

Please note that any saved or bookmarked links to our previous website will no longer work. Please delete these and updated to the new website.

While we hope that this transition does not cause any issues to our clubs, should you have any problems accessing content on our new website, please contact the Branch Office via email at admin@sls.sydney

Warm Regards,

Gary Driscoll
